CHARLEY IS POPULAR

So Much So That Two Women Are Content to Be

HIS BETTER HALVES

One a Blonde, the Other a Brunette, but Both Declare That It Is Their Intention to Not Forsake the Man.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Charles R. Sager, twenty-eight years old, says a Record-Herald special from Madison, Wis., his wife, who is the mother of his two small children, and another woman, to whom he was married unlawfully, have been living in the same house since last May, the lawful Mrs. Sager acting as servant in the home of which her rival is mistress. Sager, who is an insurance solicitor, and custodian of the buildings of the University of Wisconsin, voluntarily made this confession in court. Every one concerned is contented with this arrangement of their domestic affairs, both women resenting it when the court interfered.

"Charley is a good, kind man, and we shall stick by him through thick and thin," said the second Mrs. Sager, after the man in the case had been sent to jail. "Shan't we, Besie?" she asked of the first Mrs. Sager.

"We'll surely stick by him," said the latter.

"So long as the three persons concerned," Mrs. Sager No. 2 went on, "are satisfied with this arrangement, I don't think outsiders should interfere and try to make trouble."

Judge Donovan of the municipal court said that the law must take its course, and that Sager could not be released, at least until an investigation should have been made.

Both of the women are young and attractive in appearance. The first Mrs. Sager is tall and blonde. The second is short and a brunette.

While being examined in court on the charge of having insulted a bartender, Sager astonished Judge Donovan by voluntarily telling his story.

COURAGEOUS COMPOSITORS.

Stuck to Their Work While Being Soused With Water.

Los Angeles, Oct. 9.—Fire which started mysteriously on the top floor of the Chamber of Commerce building, caused damage roughly estimated at $100,000. The building is a five-story brick and stone structure. The three upper floors are given up to offices, the second floor to the uses of the chamber and the first is occupied by a business establishment. The fire apparently broke out all over the top floor and by the time the third alarm had been turned in, puffs and flames were bursting from the roof. The firemen had great difficulty in fighting the flames on account of the dense smoke that filled the two top floors.

The offices and composing room of the Herald on the ground floor were flooded. The typesetters continued at work in a shower. Some machinery and a considerable amount of paper in the basement were damaged.

CASE IS ON.

Standard Oil Company of Ohio Put on Trial at Findlay.

Findlay, Oct. 9.—The Standard Oil Company of Ohio was put on trial here Tuesday charged with conspiracy against trade in violation of state anti-trust laws. The penalty prescribed is a fine of from $50 to $5000 or from six to twelve months' imprisonment. John D. Rockefeller was originally a party to the suit, but was granted a separate trial, the date of which will depend on the success of the state in the present proceedings. It is said Mr. Rockefeller will not be a witness and will not attend the trial, which will be before Judge Banker and jury.

LITTLE GIRL MISSING.

Daughter of Buffalo Man Thought to Have Been Kidnaped.

Buffalo, Oct. 9.—Susie Becker, three years of age, daughter of Fred Becker, a saloonkeeper, is believed to be in the hands of kidnapers Monday afternoon, while Susie and her brother were on Main street about a block from their home the girl was approached by a woman, who asked her to go for a walk. The child readily accompanied the woman, expecting the usual reward of candy. The only description the lad could give was that the woman was dressed in gray.

WIND CHANGED.

To This Fact San Fernando Is Due
Its Escape.

Los Angeles, Oct. 9.—Changing of the wind saved the town of San Fernando from certain destruction by mountain fires, which raged intermittently from early Friday morning until Monday night. It is said that in all, 350 square miles have been devastated.

SHAMEFUL STRUGGLE.

Surgeons Wrangle Over Possession of Dying Man.

IS NEARLY DRAGGED

Out of Ambulance, and the Matter
Became So Serious That Police
Had to Put a Stop to the Unseemly Affair.

New York, Oct. 9.—While a man lay dying in an ambulance in Pell street in the Chinese quarter with three bullet wounds in his back surgeons from two hospitals struggled to secure possession of the wounded man. Several of the dying man's friends took a hand in the affair, and when the argument was at its height, and when the ambulance started to drive away, some one seized the wounded man and dragged him nearly out of the ambulance. Policemen who had arrived in the meanwhile scattered the crowd and directed the removal of the wounded man to a hospital without a minute's delay. The man who was wounded was known in Chinatown as Gus Marcella. He refused to give the police his address, and declared that he would not give the name of his assailant until satisfied that he is going to die.

TERMED MURDERERS.

Judge Lea So Characterizes Members of Atlanta Mob.

Little Rock, Oct. 9.—Judge R. J. of the Pulaski county circuit court Monday called the grand jury before him and gave the jurors specific instructions as to its inquiry into the lynching of H. G. Blackman, a negro, Sunday night at Argenta. Argenta is in Pulaski county, and is just across the Arkansas river from Little Rock. Judge Lea told the jurors that every member of the mob was a murderer, and should be hunted down. He said the law is ample to protect the innocent and punish the guilty, and that the law, and not the mob, would control in Pulaski county.

Chief of Police Pratt Monday night stationed special patrolmen in all the negro sections of the city and around the negro school houses and Shorter college, a negro institution. He gave the negroes assurance no harm would be done them, and that their property is safe. Accompanied by four policemen, Chief Pratt went to the Shorter college Monday night and made a speech to about seventy-five negroes, women and children, who had congregated there for safety, assuring them that no harm would come to them, and that the four policemen would guard the place during the night. When he concluded the children began shouting and the older ones cried, "The Lord has answered our prayers—God has sent you!" and similar cries. Chief Pratt says the scene was most pitiful.

Reports were circulated among the negroes in the northeastern portion of the city that the negro houses would be burned, and about 300 negroes left their homes and went to the country. When the police and deputy sheriffs heard this they sent negroes out to assure those who had gone, there would be nothing of this sort, and many returned. Special policemen were stationed in this section to guard the negro houses during the night.

ABSENCE OF OFFICERS.

In His Annual Report General McCaskey Makes Complaint.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Strong complaint against the absence from their commands of company officers is made by Brigadier General W. S. McCaskey, commanding the department for Texas in his annual report. He says the situation in that respect is getting worse, and he believes that if more officers of the grade of captain were present with their companies contentment among enlisted men would exist and fewer desertions would occur. He also recommends a 20 per cent increase in the pay of officers and enlisted men and a corresponding increase of the allowance for quarters. The abandonment of the present system of division commands in favor of the old system of departmental commanders would result in an improvement in administration in the opinion of General McCaskey.

Because of 20 per cent of desertions in the department was of men in their first year of enlistment, the military secretary, Major Filey, recommends that first enlistments be made for one year only, the second for two years and all succeeding enlistments for three years.

POISON IN WHISKY.

Two Men Lose Their Lives and Another at Death's Door.

Jonesboro, Ark., Oct. 9.—Daniel Webster of Cardwell, Mo., and B. Nally of Geneva, Mo., came here from Manila, Ark., and were taken violently ill. They stated that they had bought whisky at Manila which made them sick. They died. Another man, name unknown, is lying at the point of death in the hospital, having been poisoned from drinking whisky.

In a letter which Mrs. Unger left she said: "Good-bye; I am tired, and need rest."

Eat Less and Eat It Slowly.

Economic methods of eating are so important and so axiomatic that it really occasions some surprise that more is not known about the matter. Horace Fletcher, in his famous A B Z books on nutrition, very wisely insists upon the necessity of slow mastication with abundant insalivation. It is really astonishing how badly people use the teeth nature gave them for this purpose. Children naturally bolt their food, so it is said, and adults retain the habit. Not having the digestive power of cats or dogs, which naturally bolt their food, it results that much of our food is undigested and wasted.

A Good Excuse.

After the Duke of Wellington's victorious campaigns the University of Oxford complimented the duke himself and his principal officers by conferring upon them the honorary and not very appropriate degree of doctor of civil laws. At that time the fees were heavy, and one of the distinguished soldiers, who had gathered more honor than profit in the wars, declined the proffered degree in the following verse:

Oxford, I know you wish me well,
But prithee let me be.
I can't, alas, be D. C. L.

Tennyson's Prediction.

Tennyson predicted the day of his death. Just a year before his death friends of the poet were visiting Aldworth House. The late Lord Selborne turned to Tennyson and remarked, "You ought to be happy here." "Ah," sighed the poet, "I have only a year to live!" His hearers laughed at the remark, but it was a prophetic assertion that was verified to the minute.

BRYAN, TEXAS, OCTOBER 10

The telephone lines came in handy for the farmers on the recent advance in the cotton market.

The worm has turned. Alcohol, which has so long denatured man, is now by man denatured, and harnessed for industrial economy—fuel, light and power.

We suspect if the truth was known that Col. Campbell has gone in training for a finish fight with the state treasury deficit.

In six hours a strong young man could go out into the country, climb a tree, thrash off a bushel of pecans, gather them up, carry 'em to town and sell them for $2.50. But he would call that a day's work and slavery to the corporations. Yet the same man will pay 50 cents to get into a skating rink and mill around like a Polled Angus steer in a stockade, and he calls that—having a good time.—Fort Worth Star.

The democratic state executive committee meets in Dallas Oct. 16. By taking a ride on the figure 8 the committee probably hopes to get onto the curves of the Sixth congressional contest.

A Madisonville special says: The suit brought against the International & Great Northern Railroad, wherein Mrs. Carter sued the company for $1,000, alleging negligence on the part of the company in allowing loud and vociferous language used in the presence of ladies, was tried and won by defendants in the County Court here Friday. Quite an army of legal talent was employed on either side.

The following statistics were quoted at the Yoakum immigration meeting on Texas' increase along industrial lines in thirty years:

- Increased in population, 36 per cent in last ten years.
- In cotton production the increase has been 800 per cent.
- In corn production the increase has been 425 per cent.
- In wheat production the increase has been 3,754 per cent.
- In oats production the increase has been 2,653 per cent.
- In taxable values the increase has 430 per cent.
- In railway mileage the increase has been 1,323 per cent.

A. AND M. COLLEGE NEEDS.

In the course of an editorial on the needs of the A. and M. college the Houston Chronicle says:

It is an intuition that relates immediately to the most important factor in the development of Texas' agriculture, and it trains men in the field and sphere of higher and practical mechanics, and in both these fields of endeavor the demand is greater than the supply.

Fifty per cent of the civil engineers employed on the railroads and canals of Texas are graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and every graduate finds a profitable position awaiting him when he passes the college doors. Hundreds of young men are taught practically what is essential that they should know about agriculture, horticulture, live stock and plants and soils.

The entire state has already felt the impulse of the increased intelligence and practical training of her young men along these lines, and that there is not room for every one that applies is a reproach to the state.

The time has come to talk plainly to the legislature about the college. The farmers believe in it; the people generally believe in it; they are willing to furnish the money to enlarge every branch of the college, and the people are going to serve notice on every legislator that if he refuses to vote every dollar asked by the directors he will never have a chance to vote again as a legislator upon that or any other subject.

Governor after governor has recommended and urged, the directors have year after year set forth the needs of the college in plain, truthful terms; the state is abundantly able to give every dollar needed; hundreds of eager, ambitious boys, many of them sons of farmers, plead in vain for admission to the school, because there is not sufficient room, yet a majority of the legislators in the most lordly way decline to appropriate the people's money as the people demand.

Every legislator that declines to vote for an appropriation sufficient to so enlarge the Agricultural and Mechanical College as to admit every boy that desires to enter should be defeated at the next election.

The college concerns most nearly that large and worthy class which in great part not only makes legislators, but supports the government, and if the institution which is their pride is not given the support necessary to fit it to receive every boy that knocks at its doors, the farmers of Texas will select other legislators who will respect their wishes and obey their behests.

U. D. C. MEETING.

L. S. Ross Chapter, No. 100, U. D. C. held its October meeting at 4 p. m. on the 8 inst. at the residence of Mrs. Thomas. The meeting opened with the usual devotional exercise—the Lord's Prayer repeated in concert, after which the birthday of Hon. J. H. Reagan was observed by the reading of a memorial sketch of the grand old man.

Reports from the various committees on convention arrangements followed. Other necessary committees were appointed.

The election of officers closed the business session, resulting as follows:

Mrs. W. A. Banks, President; J. W. Johnson, Vice President; F. I. Garth, 2nd Vice President; J. D. West, Recording Secretary; A. J. Buchanan, Corresponding Secretary; W. A. Reed, Treasurer; P. M. Rayson, Historian; W. S. Wilson, Musical Director. Mrs. C. M. Camp was received as a new member.

The presence of several visitors enhanced the social interest of the occasion, and the hostess lent cheer by dispensing ice cream and cake. Next meeting will take place Friday, Nov. 2, place to be announced later.

FAULTY INDIGESTION

Quickly Shatters the Nervous System and Should be Given Attention at Once.

If the sufferer with weak nerves only realized that a faulty digestion was the chief cause of nerve exhaustion, a cure would be much easier, for he would then strengthen the digestive organs with Mi-o-nastomach tablets.

A few days' use of these tablets will tone and strengthen the digestive system so that it will absorb all the elements of nerve force from the daily food, and the nerves will be strengthened, sleeplessness will be overcome, weakness will vanish, and the various functions of the body will become natural and regular.

If you have specks before your eyes, are sleepless, have nervous twitchings, headaches and backaches, if there is nausea or distress after eating, if the appetite is poor and there is general debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once, and you will soon notice a marked improvement in health. It will give strength and vigor to the whole digestive system, restore the vital force, and nerve energy, and impart ambition, strength and good spirit to the discouraged, run-down and weak.

You run no risk whatever in buying Mi-o-na, for E. J. Jenkins gives and absolute guarantee with every 50-cent box that the money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na does all that is claimed for it.

SPEAKS AT WEATHERFORD.

Bailey Says He Makes No Appeal to Those He Terms Slanderers.

Weatherford, Tex., Oct. 9.—In the district court room, before 1,200 persons, Senator J. W. Bailey made a speech Monday night. He was introduced by Hon. R. B. Hood. The senator was heartily cheered. Many ladies giving him the Chautauqua salute.

The senator stated that he had never served a trus, and said he made no appeal to those who slandered him.

Senator Bailey said that twice he had been offered $50,000 a year to quit the senate and practice law, "but," he added, "I'd rather serve this mighty commonwealth for $5,000 a year than to go anywhere else for $50,000 a year." (Applause and cries of "Hurrah for Bailey.")

Senator Bailey criticised the Houston Chronicle, the Dallas Times Herald and the Fort Worth Mail-Telegram in severe terms.

"No client of mine ever sought any special privilege at the hands of congress, and if they had they would not have had the effrontery to come even to my back door asking my assistance." (Applause.)

Senator Bailey then said that his employment in Tennessee was a public matter. A year and two days before the primaries some of the people, he conceded might not have known it, but the politicians did, and, he added, some of them are good men, but some of them are so bad the devil would not have them, and if he got them he couldn't burn them.

When he concluded, hundreds, including ladies, shook his hand.

Everybody slept but Mother, and she stayed up all night,

Walking the floor with baby, while it cried with all its might.

Now Mother sleeps like Father, and so does baby Nan---

LETTER TO DAVIDSON.

Hawkins Assumes Responsibility of Giving It Out.

Austin, Oct. 9.—Assistant Attorney General Hawkins made the following statement:

"Several daily newspapers in the state have requested me to give out for publication a letter from Senator Bailey to the attorney general concerning the suit of the state against the Waters-Pierce Oil company.

"The letter was addressed to Mr. Davidson, as attorney general, but was marked 'personal,' and I assume he will not object to the publication of his letter to Attorney General Davidson, and the latter's reply. The attorney general left Austin last Saturday night to go to Washington to argue a case in the supreme court, and is now out of the state. I accept the responsibility of complying with the request of the press that the correspondence be made public."

Senator Bailey's Letter.

(Personal.) Gainesville, Tex., Oct. 8, 1906.—Hon. R. V. Davidson, Attorney General of Texas, Austin, Tex.: As my intimate friends have known from the beginning of the controversy I have intended to offer my services to the state to assist in the prosecution of the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Standard Oil company in the event should ouster proceedings be instituted.

In view of the fact, however, that you filed the suit simultaneously with the attack which my enemies in and out of the state have planned against me, and in view of certain allegations your petition, both myself and my friends are constrained to believe that it would not be agreeable to you, or to me, for us to be associated in the conduct of the case.

The fact that the suit was filed at the time when my political enemies were renewing with especial vigor their assaults upon me, might have been a mere coincidence, and not the result of any understanding between you and them; but the allegations which both I and my friends are compelled to consider an attempt to aid my enemies could hardly have been other than the result of a deliberate purpose. It had no place in the pleadings, and could not have been incorporated except for some reason outside of the case.

But while these considerations properly restrain from tendering to the state, to you, my legal services in the prosecution of the case against the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Standard Oil company, they do not absolve me from my duty to give to the state the benefit of all I know in respect to the Waters-Pierce Oil company and its readmission to the state. I do not know anything about the re-incorporation of that company, but I do know something about the representation which it made as to its independence of all trust relations, and I shall be glad to come at any time, and at my own expense, testify in the state's behalf. Very respectfully,

J. W. BAILEY.

Attorney General's Reply.

Attorney General Davidson's reply follows:

Austin, Oct. 6.—Hon. J. W. Bailey, United States Senator, Gainesville, Tex.: Sir—In answer to your letter of Oct. 3 you are advised that the Waters-Pierce Oil company suit was instituted without reference to any political effects, or without consideration of the consequences to any person in this state. It was filed for the sole purpose of vindicating an outraged law and punishing a palpable fraud.

We have been engaged for months collecting the necessary testimony upon which to base this action, and the suit was filed as soon as we had sufficient evidence in legal form.

You failed to point out the particular allegation in the petition to which you except. Had you done so I would probably have been in a position to point out its materiality.

I expect to prove every allegation made; and in my judgment each and every one is material and relevant to the case which the state expects to present to the court.

I specifically deny that any allegation was made having in view any political consequence or to aid a movement of any character.

The question of tendering your services to the state to aid in the prosecution is one which you must settle according to your own inclinations. If you entertained such a purpose it was never communicated to me, although you had frequent opportunity to do so, and the ground upon which you predicate your actions in refraining from so doing are based upon a construction for which you alone must accept the responsibility.

As stated, the sole purpose of this suit is to drive from the borders of this state a foreign corporation which has for twenty-five years preyed upon the people and consumed their substance, which corporation, when outlawed by a judgment of the highest court of the land, was readmitted into the state by fraud, which for premeditated audacity and utter contempt of law, has never before, nor since, been equaled in the history of this country. I have resisted every effort made to draw this case into politics, as the interests of the state are paramount to the political fortunes of any person.

Therefore I trust that it will not become necessary for me to take any part in this agitation.

Referring to your proposal to testify in the case concerning the representation which the defendant made to you claiming its independence of all trust regulations, I beg to advise that if your testimony should be limited to that issue I do not believe that it will be of any material value in the state's case, as I understand that the defendant will not deny its claim to be independent. Very respectfully,

R. V. DAVIDSON, Attorney General.

HOSE HEROES.

International Association of Fire Chiefs Meet at Dallas.

Dallas, Oct. 9.—The annual meeting for 1906 of the International Association of Fire Chiefs held its first session this morning.

Chief Magee of the Dallas department called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. J. Frank Smith, who delivered an invocation.

Mayor Smith, President Thomas of the Commercial club and United States District Attorney Atwell welcomed the visitors. Mr. Atwell referred to the part fire had participated in history, beginning with Moses before the burning bush, the pillar of fire which guided the Israelites, Nero fiddling while Rome was burning, the destruction of Moscow, London's great fire, Boston's big blaze, Chicago's conflagration and this year's disaster at San Francisco. He declared there were two kinds of firemen—those who build fires (on cold mornings) and those who extinguish them. He concluded by hoping that the chiefs would not have to fight flames in the great beyond, but forever abide with the Great Chief above.

President Stagg of Paterson, N. J., took the gavel and called on Chief Benedict of Newark, N. J., to respond to the words of welcome, which that gentleman did in a witty speech.

Tuesday night memorial services in honor of the departed members were held.

An exhibit of fire apparatus and electrical appliances is being shown in a large building.

There are chiefs present from all over the United States and portions of Canada, including the head of the Toronto department.
